Objective

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Articulate the foundational business model underpinning strategy.
- Integrate critical and creative thinking into strategic planning.
- Assess the impact of external changes on organisational dynamics.
- Recognise and leverage individual and team capabilities for strategic planning.
- Effectively engage and maintain support from stakeholders through communication.
- Cultivate productive partnerships conducive to strategy implementation.
- Craft succinct and compelling strategy statements.
- Appreciate how planning processes facilitate agile responses.
- Develop proficiency in aligning strategic objectives with operational goals.

Audience

This course caters to a diverse audience but is particularly beneficial for:

- Managers seeking to enhance their agility and strategic acumen.
- Technical professionals aiming to broaden their skill set.
- Non-executive personnel with aspirations for career advancement.

Training Methodology

This course leverages a blend of adult learning techniques designed to enhance strategic thinking and agility. Participants will engage in interactive sessions, including real-world case studies and scenario analysis, to bridge theory and practical application. Group exercises will facilitate collaborative problem-solving, enabling participants to apply strategic concepts in simulated environments.

Role-playing activities will help participants practice formulating and communicating strategic plans, allowing them to receive immediate feedback on their approach and effectiveness. Through the use of strategic thinking tools and robust analysis methodologies, participants will refine their ability to anticipate and address future challenges, ensuring they can lead their organisations with agility and foresight.

Summary

This course aims to fortify participants' abilities in strategy formulation and execution, recognising the indispensable role of agility in today's dynamic business landscape. Effective leaders adeptly balance their involvement within and outside their organisations. This programme will teach participants to anticipate and strategically address forthcoming challenges and opportunities. By amalgamating robust analysis methodologies with established thinking tools, participants can empower their organisations to navigate the uncertainties and complexities of the contemporary world.
