segmentation.

- Assessments and Feedback : Quizzes, assignments, and group feedback sessions will help participants solidify their knowledge and identify areas for improvement.

Summary

Customer profiling creates detailed descriptions of different segments within an organisation's customer base. This information is essential for developing tailored marketing strategies, enhancing customer experiences, and improving product and service offerings. The "Customer Profiling Techniques & Procedures" training course provides participants with the tools and techniques to identify, segment, and understand their customers, ensuring more targeted and effective engagement.

This course covers a range of customer profiling techniques, from collecting and analysing demographic data to understanding psychographics, behaviour patterns, and purchasing habits. Participants will learn how to create comprehensive customer profiles, also known as buyer personas, that help organisations connect with their target audience more effectively. Additionally, the course will explore how to use data analytics, surveys, and customer feedback for profiling and ways to leverage this information in marketing campaigns, product development, and customer service strategies.

By the end of this course, participants will be equipped to conduct customer profiling activities that drive better decision-making, improve marketing effectiveness, and enhance customer satisfaction. The course is ideal for marketing professionals, sales managers, business analysts, and customer service personnel seeking to deepen their understanding of customer behaviour and preferences.
