Course Code: IND15 - 129

Objective

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Read and analyse financial statements specific to the sports sector.
- Design and manage effective budgets for sports teams and events.
- Identify revenue opportunities and improve financial performance.
- Align financial strategies with long-term organisational goals.
- Make sound, data-driven financial decisions under pressure.
- Strengthen financial communication with stakeholders and partners.

Audience

This course is ideal for:

- Senior leaders and executives in sports organisations.
- Club owners, federation directors, and financial decision-makers.
- Finance managers in teams, venues, or sports associations.
- Business development and sponsorship executives.
- Event organisers and operations heads involved in budget oversight.

Training Methodology

The course uses a blended and interactive learning approach that combines expert-led presentations, real-world case studies, and hands-on exercises. Participants will engage in group discussions, financial simulation activities, and role-playing scenarios to enhance practical understanding and strategic thinking. Each module includes practical tools and templates that can be applied immediately within the participant's organisation. Instructors bring real-life sports finance experience, ensuring the training is relevant, actionable, and aligned with global industry standards.

Summary

This course is designed to empower sports executives and professionals with the financial knowledge needed to lead effectively in a results-driven and commercially dynamic environment. Participants will explore the unique financial structures that underpin sports organisations, including revenue streams such as broadcasting rights, sponsorships, and merchandising, as well as cost centres like player salaries, event logistics, and facility operations. The course addresses both day-to-day financial operations and long-term financial strategy.

In today's competitive sports landscape, financial literacy is essential not just for CFOs but also for general managers, marketing leaders, and operations executives. Whether managing club finances, overseeing events, or negotiating high-value contracts, understanding the financial implications of every decision can drive growth, stability, and stakeholder confidence. This course provides a strong foundation for making informed, ethical, and sustainable financial choices in the sports sector.
